TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

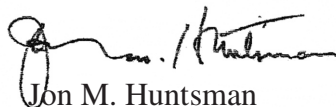

It is my privilege to write a letter of recommendation for Adam P Green.

I have known Adam personally for a substantial portion of his life and consider him to be among the outstanding young men with whom I have been associated. Adam is a dedicated individual with many leadership qualities. He is eager to learn, relates well to others and is an exceptionally hard worker. Adam's broad experience outside the United States not only adds diversity to his credentials but has afforded Adam invaluable exposure to international business philosophies.

Over the years, in my leadership role at Huntsman Corporation, I have observed hundreds of capable and qualified individuals and know what it requires to be successful in the business world. In my opinion, Adam Green possesses those attributes and qualities.

Adam definitely has the creativity and intellect crucial to success in any business setting. I highly recommend him without reservation.

Most sincerely,

Jon M. Huntsman
